I design for intelligence and outcomes

As a design and growth strategist with 8+ years of experience across PropTech, fintech, and travel, I specialize in transforming complex systems into intelligent, measurable experiences.

I build AI-enhanced digital products that merge behavioral insight, automation, and conversion strategy, turning user interaction into tangible business growth.

Professional experience

Experience Lead (Commerce) – WPP

Dec 2025 - Present · Remote / Zürich, Switzerland

Experience Lead for Commerce at WPP, responsible for defining and evolving end-to-end user experiences across complex, data-heavy and AI-enabled commerce platforms. Working at the intersection of UX, product, engineering and business to create scalable systems, decision-oriented interfaces and cohesive experiences across tools, agents and workflows.

Key contributions:

- Define and own the end-to-end UX vision for Commerce across platforms, tools and workflows.
- Lead the design of complex, data-heavy and AI-enabled experiences that support confident decision-making.
- Partner closely with Product, Engineering, Data and Business stakeholders to align UX with strategy and delivery.
- Translate complex business and technical requirements into intuitive, scalable user experiences.

AI & Experience Strategy Lead – Enso Co-Living · PropTech + Smart Living

May 2025 – Dec 2025 · Remote / Zürich, Switzerland

Led AI-driven experience strategy for a next-generation co-living and real-estate platform. Designed adaptive, data-aware interfaces that enhance community living, streamline property operations, and scale internationally.

Key contributions:

- Led product strategy for a next-gen coliving platform, leveraging AI-enhanced onboarding flows to reduce friction 22 %.
- Developed and implemented a scalable design system integrated across multiple digital touchpoints.
- Employed PostHog and Mixpanel for behavioural analytics, translating data into actionable UX optimisations and retention improvements.

Inspiration

Art keeps my sense of composition and balance alive, it reminds me that beauty often lies in structure and restraint. History fuels my curiosity about how ideas evolve through time and how cultures shape the way we think and create.

Photography helps me slow down, observe light, and capture meaning through small details that often go unnoticed. Hiking through Swiss trails is my way to reset, reconnect with simplicity, and find clarity; it's usually in those quiet moments outdoors where new ideas begin to take form.
